A local guide greets you at Mosser Glass for a factory tour in Cambridge. Get up close and personal with the talented craftsmen at work and learn about the process of making glass. AJ Bennett was the man who founded the glass industry in Cambridge in 1902 and this afternoon, you marvel at the creations and beauty of The National Museum of Cambridge Glass. Freshen up at your hotel and bring a hearty appetite to Francis Family Restaurant for a dinner divine before you journey into the hills to the Living Word Outdoor Drama where you witness the Miracle of the resurrection at Ohio's only "Passion Play".

Coal mining was the master of the economy in the early 1900's. On day two, you ride the rails of the Byesville Scenic Railway and hear immigrant stories and struggles of life above and below the ground. Life of a coal miner was difficult but faith and family gave the miner the courage to overcome. At St. John's Episcopal Church, your final stop, you are greeted by Dorothy and her English accent. She will treat you to "tea and biscuits" complete with jelly and Devonshire cream. During the tour, you learn how this church is connected to Cambridge Glass and AJ Bennett.

Cambridge is a city of many religious denominations and interesting traditions of faith. Many churches are available for tours and/or meals, please contact Ohio-Made Getaways for ideas and options.
