

From Farm to Fork: Southeast Ohio Serves Homegrown Goodness

CAMBRIDGE, OHIO (March 8, 2023) – As you travel throughout Southeast Ohio its eateries are unforgettable. From delicate pastries to the comfort foods you want to eat again and again – Ohio’s eateries weave a classic tale of what makes Ohio worth exploring.

Every bite you take you’ll taste homegrown goodness in these “farm to fork” eateries in Guernsey County, Ohio.

For a real home-grown experience, nosh on juicy burgers, fresh-cut fries and creamy milkshakes at 360 Burger. Dishes are made with farm-to-table local ingredients and the beef comes from the restaurant’s own cattle herd. Try the Spicy Bacon Burger paired with a hand-spun milkshake. Parents can opt for adult flavors like Kahlua Cookies & Cream. This is chef-driven, high-quality food that just so happens to be served fast. www.the360burger.com

360 Burger’s sister restaurant is The Bear’s Den. If you’re looking for a leisurely dinner and extensive menu this is the place to be. The Bear’s Den uses only fresh-cut steak, pork and seafood to create flavorful food for every taste bud to enjoy. Each dish is created in-house with locally produced ingredients. During the cooler months cozy into a booth or table for dining. For warmer seasons enjoy the patio for alfresco dining. www.bearsdensteakhouse.com

Finally, if you’re looking to cook something at home or on the campfire, visit the Byesville Farmers Market May through September at Byesville Park. Every Thursday 4-7pm local growers gather to share and sell their delectable foods. www.facebook.com/ByesvilleFarmersMarket2

For more information, contact the Cambridge/Guernsey County Visitors & Convention Bureau office at 627 Wheeling Avenue, Suite 200 in downtown Cambridge, call 740-432-2022, email info@VisitGuernseyCounty.com, or log onto VisitGuernseyCounty.com.

###