

Mosser Glass and the National Museum of Cambridge Glass Named Official Locations on America 250-Ohio Creativity Trail

New experiential driving trail assembles 100+ attractions showcasing Ohio's significant contributions to American history in six creative arts fields

Cambridge, Ohio (February 10, 2025) – In the lead-up to America's 250th anniversary, the Guernsey County Visitors & Convention Bureau announced today that Mosser Glass and the National Museum of Cambridge Glass have partnered with the America 250-Ohio Commission to be official stops on its new Ohio Creativity Trail. This experiential driving trail of 108 sites across Ohio showcases the Ohio's past and present writers, musicians, artists and other creatives who have made significant contributions to artistic expression. It is the second of six planned experiential trails for America 250-Ohio's signature Trails & Tales program. The Ohio Creativity Trail sites are grouped into six categories: On the Page, Music, Visual Arts, Glass & Pottery, Folk & Traditional Art, and Carousels.

As the Creativity Trail officially launched last Friday, excitement fills the air in Guernsey County. Debbie Robinson, Executive Director of the Cambridge/Guernsey County Visitors & Convention Bureau, shares her enthusiasm: "We are so proud to have two of our attractions named to the Glass & Pottery Trail. This recognition not only honors our rich heritage of craftsmanship but also highlights the vibrant, creative spirit that thrives in our community. With two of Cambridge's premier attractions now part of this prestigious trail, it's a shining moment for the area, drawing even more attention to the timeless artistry that has made Guernsey County a cultural gem."

For over forty years, Mosser Glass has proudly remained a family-owned and operated business, producing stunning hand-pressed glassware with unmatched artistry and care. As the only hand-pressed glass factory in the United States, Mosser Glass offers visitors an exclusive opportunity to see the magic of glassmaking firsthand. Enjoy a free guided tour through the facility, where skilled artisans bring each creation to life using techniques passed down through generations. "You're not just purchasing a piece of glassware; you're taking home a piece of our family's legacy," says Mindy Hartley, co-owner of Mosser Glass. "We're proud to keep these traditions alive and share them with the world." Visitors can also shop for these one-of-a-kind, handcrafted pieces at the onsite retail store, taking home a stunning reminder of the craftsmanship and history behind every piece.

Step into the world of Cambridge Glass at the National Museum of Cambridge Glass, where over a century of artistry and craftsmanship comes to life. From stunning art deco patterns to vibrant hues, the museum offers an intimate look at the legacy of the Cambridge Glass Company, showcasing intricate designs, rare glass pieces and original production molds. "We're incredibly proud to preserve and share the history of Cambridge Glass," says Cindy Arent, Director of the National Museum of Cambridge Glass. "Every piece tells a story of innovation and artistry, and we're honored to offer a space where people can connect with this exceptional heritage."

Whether you're a seasoned collector or a first-time visitor, the National Museum of Cambridge Glass is a must-see destination, offering a captivating look at the history and lasting influence of American glassmaking.

"It's no secret that Ohioans leave their mark on the world, whether in the form of paint on a canvas, words on a page or new artistic ways to express thoughts and ideas," said Todd Kleismit, Executive Director, America 250-Ohio. "In partnership with the Cambridge/Guernsey County Visitors & Convention Bureau, we're showcasing their great work, as well as other talented artists across Ohio to generate excitement for our state's significant contributions to the cultural fabric of America. We look forward to celebrating with Mosser Glass and the National Museum of Cambridge Glass throughout 2025 and 2026."

About America 250-Ohio

In 2026, the United States will celebrate its semiquincentennial, which is the 250th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. Each state has been encouraged to create a celebration and commemoration of this anniversary to reflect the unique character and contributions of each state to the nation over the past 250 years. Ohio is fully embracing this opportunity. The Ohio Commission for the Semiquincentennial (aka America 250-Ohio Commission or AM250-OH) was created by the Ohio legislature and launched on March 1, 2022. The charge of the AM250-OH Commission is to plan, encourage, develop and coordinate the commemoration of the two hundred fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the United States and the impact of Ohioans on the nation's past, present, and future." — Ohio Revised Code (149.309).
