

Spring Ushers in the Opening of Seasonal Attractions in Southeast Ohio

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (March 30, 2026) – Nestled in the rolling hills of southeastern Ohio, Guernsey County offers timeless charm and heartfelt hospitality. As the warmer weather approaches, numerous points of interest and attractions are set to open in the region for visitors to explore.

“From roadside treasures to seasonal festivals, every winding turn reveals a new adventure and the kind of smiles that feel like home,” shared Debbie Robinson, Executive Director of the Cambridge/Guernsey County Visitor & Convention Bureau. “Guernsey County offers an amazing mix of outdoor recreation with affordable and unique overnight accommodations, paired with fascinating history.”

Throughout the 20th century, Cambridge Glass was synonymous worldwide with fine craftsmanship. Today, the National Museum of Cambridge Glass displays more than 10,000 exquisite pieces of this coveted vintage glassware. The museum offers tours and interactive exhibits to help visitors understand the intricate process of glass making from gathering to shaping, etching and engraving. Opens for the season on April 1. For more information, visit www.cambridgeglassmuseum.org.

The month of May welcomes the opening of one of Ohio’s wildest adventures! The Wilds, operated by the Columbus Zoo, offers an incredible destination with up-close animal encounters for the whole family. Specialty tours add to the fun. Open daily from May 1 through October 31, it's the perfect destination for a day trip or weekend getaway. Advanced reservations are required, so visit www.thewilds.org today to plan your adventure!

Visit the last remaining original homestead structure in Guernsey County with a visit to the Stone House Museum. Built in 1837 by Benjamin Kennedy, the home is made of sandstone quarried nearby. The museum is open from May 1 to October 31, every Friday through Sunday from 1-5 p.m. Learn more at www.ohiodnr.gov/go-and-do/plan-a-visit/find-a-property/stone-house-museum-the-kennedy-stone-house-.

Immerse yourself in the region’s rich history at the Guernsey County History Museum, located in a nearly 200-year-old, restored 16-room house. A life-like replica of an Ohio coal mine from the 1890s and a one-room schoolhouse will engage everyone with interesting artifacts. The museum opens for the season on May 2. Learn more at www.facebook.com/guernseyhistory.

Explore American history from the Great Depression to the Great Space Race by visiting the John & Annie Glenn Museum, a National Historic Site. Beginning May 6 through late October, you may experience the lives of the Glens and gain insights into life in 1937. Natives of Guernsey County, the Glens left their fingerprints of generosity and love for the community throughout the area. www.johnandannieglennmuseum.org Follow the John & Annie Glenn Heritage Trail in Southeast Ohio to learn more about the remarkable lives of John and Annie Glenn. John & Annie Glenn Heritage Trail - Cambridge Ohio Guernsey County.

Explore American history from the Great Depression to the Great Space Race by visiting the John & Annie Glenn Museum, a National Historic Site. Beginning May 6 through late October, you may experience the lives of the Glens and gain insights into life in 1937. Natives of Guernsey County, the Glens left their fingerprints of generosity and love for the community throughout the area. www.johnandannieglennmuseum.org Follow the John & Annie Glenn Heritage Trail in Southeast Ohio to learn more about the remarkable lives of John and Annie Glenn. John & Annie Glenn Heritage Trail - Cambridge Ohio Guernsey County.

###