

Take the scenic route through Ohio's foothills in Guernsey County this fall

CAMBRIDGE, OHIO (October 5, 2026) – Autumn is the perfect time to roll down the windows—or hop on your motorcycle—and explore the winding roads of Ohio's foothills. As the leaves turn, Guernsey County comes alive in a beautiful patchwork of reds, oranges and golds, while cooler temperatures make fall an ideal time to get out and explore.

Take your time discovering local favorites, from the historic S Bridges and charming covered bridges to the boutique shops of downtown Cambridge and Byesville. Soak in the scenery at Georgetown Vineyards, where sweeping views pair perfectly with locally made wines and specialty drinks.

Prefer to stretch your legs? Pick up the Great Guernsey Trail right from downtown Cambridge and enjoy a peaceful walk or bike ride through the changing landscape.

And don't forget a picnic! Grab sandwiches to go from Brickhouse Market & Deli, spread out a blanket and enjoy the fall scenery at Seneca Lake Park or Salt Fork State Park. After lunch, explore the nearby hiking trails or head out on the water with a rented kayak or pontoon boat. It's an easygoing way to spend a beautiful fall afternoon.

For those who would rather experience fall from the open road, the Cambridge/Guernsey County Visitors & Convention Bureau has mapped out five self-guided motorcycle routes that wind through some of the area's most scenic countryside. You don't have to be on two wheels to enjoy them, though—the routes make beautiful fall drives, too. Choose a route, hit the road and enjoy the curves, countryside, small towns and colorful views along the way.

Whether you're planning a leisurely afternoon, a motorcycle ride or a weekend road trip, fall is a wonderful time to discover Guernsey County. Come for the colors, stay for the small-town charm and take the scenic route along the way.
